Expanding Your Horizons™

in Science, Engineering, Mathematics, and Technology

A 'career' is more than just a job. Finding the right career takes planning, education and training. It is never too early to begin plans for your future.

At this conference you will have a chance to attend workshops led by women who use science and math in their careers. Many of these workshops include hands-on activities where you can try some of the things these women do "on the job". You will have the opportunity to learn about a variety of careers and the training needed to qualify for these careers. Find out what you enjoy and you may discover the career that is just right for you!

An EYH scholarship to Tyler Junior College is presented annually to a previous EYH participant.
